Reports of the various committees were heard. The proposition made by Messrs. Ross and Imah of Hardwick to open the quarries was presented to the meeting and a special committee consisting of H. T. Seaver, Wallace H. Gilpin and John V. Rowen was appointed to communicate further with the gentlemen and see if a satisfactory deal could not be made with them.

The Women's Literary Club met on Wednesday evening with Mrs. H. R. Cutler. Owing to the severe weather the attendance was smaller than usual, but those who braved the storm felt amply repaid as the meeting was one of the most interesting ones of the season. After roll call, "Sayings of Children," a New Year's greeting from Mrs. Mary Decker, president of the Vermont Federation of Women's Clubs, was read. The following papers, all giving evidence of much careful preparation, were given: "Popular Books and authors," Miss Colburne; "The Novel of Today," Mrs. Mabel Thompson; "What Children Read and What They Should Read," Mrs. Etta McClellan; "Education of Girls as Future Wives and Mothers," Mrs. Ida Cutler.

Mention was made in our last issue of the sudden death of Mrs. E. C. Elliott, which occurred Saturday, January 5, at the home of B. B. Jerome. Miss Abbie Kendall was born in Victory January 30, 1857, and was the daughter of Samuel and Mary Kendall. She moved with her parents to Coventry when quite young and spent most of her girlhood there. Later she came with her parents to this town, where her father, Mr. Kendall, was prominent in musical circles, and had charge of the singing in the Congregational church for some years. She married E. C. Elliott July 19, 1879, and has lived here all her married life with the exception of three years. Mrs. Elliott was a kind neighbor, affectionate wife and mother and a great lover of home, which she made most pleasant and cheerful for her family. She was a member of the Methodist church for a number of years and most highly esteemed by her many friends. She had been in delicate health for a long time, but was not so ill as to cause her friends immediate anxiety. She leaves her husband, her daughter, Mrs. L. M. Kinsley, her mother, Mrs. Mary J. Kendall, four brothers, Eugene, Clarence and Robert of East Barre, and Robert of McIntosh Falls, her sister, Mrs. Enos of Newport, to mourn her loss, besides many friends and more distant relatives. The funeral was held at the home on Tuesday, Rev. W. C. Johnson officiating. The floral tributes were beautiful. The interment was in the village cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS.--We wish to express our gratitude and thanks to the kind friends who assisted us in our affliction, sympathized with us in our sorrow, contributed beautiful flowers, or who did anything to help us in our trouble by reason of the death of our dear one. May heaven's blessings rest upon you all. E. C. ELLIOTT, MRS. GRACE KINSLEY, L. M. KINSLEY.

Another sudden death occurred here last week on Wednesday morning, when W. H. Goodro passed away. Mrs. Mary Goodro, his mother, watched with him until about five o'clock a.m., and then took a little rest until 6:30 when she went into his room and found him dead. Mr. Goodro had been in poor health for about a year, in fact he was always troubled with spinal difficulty which prevented his ever being strong. He was a barber by trade, and came here three years ago from North

Troy and has carried on that business since. He was born in Troy in January, 1850, and spent most of his life in that town. He was the son of Henry and Mary Goodro, and his father being dead, he has made his home with his mother for several years. He was genial, kind hearted and friendly to all, and his cheerful air and bearing won him friends wherever he was known. His sudden death was a shock to his relatives and many friends. He leaves to mourn him, his mother, his five brothers, Alfred of Newport, Frank of West Burke, Bert of North Troy, and George and Walter of this town, also, his five sisters, Mrs. Mary Gilman of Burlington, Mrs. Emma Clark of Woodsville, N. H., Mrs. Etta Clapper of North Troy, Mrs. Lizzie Stone of Wallington, Wis., and Mrs. Millie Austin of this town. Short funeral services were held at the house, and the remains were taken to Troy and services were held in the Baptist church there on Friday, Rev. W. C. Johnson of this place officiating and Rev. J. E. Berry of Troy assisting. The floral offerings were beautiful, and the remarks very appropriate. The remains were interred in the village cemetery in Troy.

CARD.--We desire to express our sincere thanks to the many friends who have so kindly assisted and sympathized with us in our great affliction, wherein our son and brother was taken to the better land. It is our prayer that when sorrow comes to you, others may be equally kind, and so mitigate your trouble that you may bear it with Christian resignation.

MRS. MARY GOODRO, ALFRED GOODRO, FRANK GOODRO, GEORGE GOODRO, WALTER GOODRO, BERT GOODRO, MRS. MARY GILMAN, MRS. EMMA CLARK, MRS. LIZZIE STONE, MRS. ETNA CLAPPER, MRS. MILLIE AUSTIN.
